Foreword

It is my pleasure to introduce the second edition of Eastern Mediterranean University's Accreditation Catalogue. This updated edition builds upon the foundation laid by the first, continuing to serve as a comprehensive and centralized resource for all accreditation-related information. It reflects the university's unwavering commitment to academic excellence, international recognition, and continuous quality improvement across all faculties and departments.

Since the publication of the first edition, Eastern Mediterranean University has further strengthened its position as a preferred, participating, and autonomous institution, open to change and development. This updated catalogue not only reaffirms our dedication to maintaining internationally recognized quality standards but also highlights our ongoing efforts to expand and enhance our accreditations at both the university and faculty levels. These accreditations serve as a testament to the high standards we uphold, ensuring that our academic programs meet global benchmarks and that our graduates are well-prepared to excel in their respective fields.

By consolidating all accreditation information in one place, this catalogue enhances accessibility and transparency for both academic and administrative departments. More importantly, it underscores our institution's commitment to producing science and technology, fostering multicultural diversity, and continuously improving the quality of education we provide. Through this, we not only strengthen our credibility but also inspire confidence among students, faculty, partners, and stakeholders worldwide.

I would like to extend my sincere appreciation to the Institutional Development and International Academic Affairs Office for their diligent efforts in preparing this second edition. Their dedication and meticulous work have been instrumental in ensuring that this catalogue remains an essential tool for our academic community.

As we move forward, Eastern Mediterranean University will continue to pursue excellence, adapting to evolving educational landscapes while upholding the highest academic and institutional standards. I trust that this updated edition will serve as a valuable guide, reinforcing our shared mission of academic integrity and global engagement.

Thank you for your continued support of Eastern Mediterranean University's vision and excellence.

Eastern Mediterranean University

Since its establishment in 1979, the administrations of Eastern Mediterranean University, both former and present, have been diligently working to cultivate the university's Quality Assurance System. This system has been instrumental in creating an institution of higher education with all its educational programs accredited by the most prestigious international accreditation bodies, which attest to the quality of education and lifestyle provided for its students and academics throughout the years of service.

EMU, the oldest and largest university on the island of Cyprus, was founded in 1979 as the Institute of Higher Technology, an institution established in consultation with the Turkish Higher Education Council (YÖK). In 1986, the institute was formally chartered as a university under the title "Eastern Mediterranean University", with English as the primary medium of instruction. EMU operates under the full supervision and governance of the Turkish Higher Education Council (YÖK), ensuring that our academic programs and institutional policies align with the highest standards set by the Turkish higher education system. As the university grew, its faculty and student population became progressively more international, and its vision and goals broadened beyond its national context to encompass a regional and international future. Over the years, EMU's campus and academic infrastructure have developed into a fully-fledged university, fully integrated with and recognized by Turkish Higher Education Council (YÖK).

Since its establishment, the EMU administration has emphasized internationalization, with enhanced momentum in 2000. The internationalization efforts of EMU are not limited to attracting students and academics from all over the world. The EMU administration is also very keen on developing international collaborations and exchange programs with highly prestigious academic institutions from all continents worldwide.

EMU has placed special emphasis on developing a Quality Assurance System (QAS) that covers a wide spectrum of educational, research, and service activities on a global scale. As a result of its fully nurtured QAS, all academic programs of EMU have gained relevant accreditations from the local Higher Education, Planning, Accreditation, and Coordination Council of North Cyprus (YÖDAK), the Turkish Higher Education Council (YÖK), UK National Information Centre for global qualifications and skills (UK ENIC), and from accreditation councils and other related institutions in the countries from which our students hail. EMU has also attained membership and accreditations from reputable international associations, such as the International Association of Universities (IAU), the European University Association (EUA), the Community of Mediterranean Universities (CMU), and the Federation of Universities of the Islamic World (FUIW). Recently, EMU was accepted into the Organization of Turkic States, Turkic Universities Union (TURKUNIB).

Eastern Mediterranean University's reputation for academic excellence and innovative research is reflected in our diverse student population of over 15,000 students from 105 different countries, as well as in our wide range of undergraduate and graduate degree programs offered across our 13 faculties and 4 schools, which have produced 75,000 graduates. Our 1,200+ faculty members from 35 different countries are highly qualified and recognized experts in their fields. Our strong alumni network has had successful careers in various industries. EMU has also established a robust framework for collaboration and mobility (for both staff and students) with numerous universities worldwide. As a result of our continuous efforts for development, EMU has become an internationally renowned university with an ever-growing quality spirit and rapidly expanding academic reputation.

Eastern Mediterranean University is a beacon of academic excellence and innovation. We are proud to share that, according to the Times Higher Education (THE) World University Rankings 2026, EMU is ranked in the top 601–800 in the world. In the THE Young University Rankings, we have achieved an impressive placement of 151st, underscoring our dynamic potential for growth and development. Our university's dedication to meaningful research and education is reflected in a notable rank of 301–400 in THE Impact Rankings of 2025, an achievement that highlights our commitment to addressing global challenges and promoting sustainable development. EMU achieved its highest scores in the areas of "No Poverty", "Partnership for Goals" and "Reduced Inequalities".

EMU made a strong entry into the QS World University Rankings 2026, a ranking where no university from North Cyprus had previously appeared. Evaluated 691st among 1,500 universities from 105 countries, EMU surpassed 54% of the universities listed, marking a significant achievement. Further cementing our reputation, EMU has received 5 stars in Global Engagement, Facilities and Program Strength (in Hospitality & Leisure Management) in QS Stars.

Our university's recognition for academic excellence in specific disciplines is highlighted by the Shanghai Ranking's Global Ranking of Academic Subjects 2025, which acknowledges our FIBAA

(Foundation for International Business Administration Accreditation) accredited Faculty of Tourism in the top 51-75 band. These rankings testify to our high-quality education and research capabilities, preparing our students to become leaders in their respective fields. Similarly, the EMU Architecture Faculty holds the MIAK accreditation. The Business and Economics Faculty, Tourism Faculty, and School of Computing and Technology have been granted FIBAA accreditation. EMU Computer Technologies and Information Systems offered by the School of Computing and Technology (SCT) successfully passed the ASIIN accreditation process. EMU Engineering programs (Mechatronics, Civil, Mechanical Computer, Electrical-Electronics, Industrial and Management Engineering) have been fully accredited by ABET (Accreditation Board for Engineering and Technology). EMU Foreign Languages and English Preparatory School have successfully obtained EDEXCEL accreditation. Lastly, our University's Business and Economics Faculty is a full member of EFMD and AACSB.

Dear Prof. Dr. Hasan Demirel,

Re: Eastern Mediterranean University, Turkish Republic of Northern Cyprus

Further to your recent correspondence, I am writing to confirm the following:

Although UK ENIC is not in the position to comment on the Turkish Republic of Northern Cyprus as an internationally recognised independent state, we acknowledge that degrees awarded by EMU are accredited and accepted by the Turkish education authorities as being the same standard as those awarded by recognised Turkish higher education institutions. A recognised Turkish Bachelor degree (Lisans Diploması) is considered comparable to British Bachelor (Honours) degree standard.

It is recommended that degrees from EMU be considered in this context by potential employers and admitting institutions.

Yours sincerely,

Paul Norris
Head of UK ENIC
